

Evert-Jan Hoogerwerf (1963) was born in the Netherlands where he graduated at the University of Amsterdam in Mass Communication Studies and at the University of Tilburg in Linguistics and Literature Studies.

Since many years he lives and works in Italy. He is currently leading the Assistive Technology team of AIAS Bologna, an end-user driven association that staffs several independent advice centres on the role technology can play to support persons with disabilities and older citizens. He is also responsible for the European Care Certificate in Italy. He has worked as manager, researcher and communication specialist in various European projects and on a wide range of topics, including maltreatment prevention, professional development, integrated care, eHealth and eCare, assistive technology.

Hoogerwerf is board member of the European Association of Service Providers for Persons with Disabilities (EASPD) and Secretary general of the Association for the Advancement of Assistive Technology in Europe (AAATE).