INTERNATIONAL WORKSHOP ON HIGHER EDUCATION ON HIGHER EDUCATION

Perspectives on the needs and challenges of science education in primary school

Science is present everywhere: in media, in society and, of course, in schools. Therefore, it is very important to promote a scientific literacy for everyone. Three renowned experts are going to discuss about current challenges of science education. What is the role of school in this scientific literacy? And what is the role of teacher training? What kind of science education are schools making nowadays? What are the main challenges in science education?
