

INTERNATIONAL WORKSHOP

INTERNATIONAL WORKSHOP ON HIGHER EDUCATION ON HIGHER EDUCATION

Managing genetic data for research

The last decade has seen the development of Next Generation Sequencing (NGS) techniques in genetics, providing researchers and institutions with new opportunities to advance our understanding of the field. These techniques offer new tools for diagnosing diseases and identifying possible treatments. However, the advances also raise new challenges and opportunities relating to the protection of patients' and healthy individuals' rights, and involving both researchers and the institutions at which they work.

Organized by:

UVIC

UNIVERSITAT DE VIC
UNIVERSITAT CENTRAL
DE CATALUNYA

Escola
de Doctorat

Unitat de Divulgació
Científica

Sponsored by:

Obra Social "la Caixa"